The previous question was seconded and the main question ordered.

Mr. LYNCH then proceeded to explain the substitute reported by the Committee, and to discuss the amendments and some of the objections made to the bill. He denied that the bill was conceived in the interest of any class or section. The first meeting of the Committee had been held at the Custom-House in New York, where ship-owners, merchant, and shipbuilders were not only permitted, but invited, to be present, and give opinions and make suggestions. The proceedings were reported, and were sent broadcast ever the country. The same rule was followed in Koston and Portland. On the facts thus obtained the conclusions in the report were based. The opposition to the bill came principally from New York merchante, who during the war had placed their ships under the British flag, from men who were interested in or the Clyde shipbuilders.

On motion of Mr. MARSHALL (Dem., Ill.) the designation of what constitutes wholesale liquor dealers was amended by increasing the minimum from a quart to a gallon. In the course of a discussion on the whisky quesgallon. In the course of a discussion on the whisky ques-tion, Mr. Marshall intimated that the machinery for col-lecting the tax was so much improved that there might be a proposition made and entertained to increase the present rate of taxation; and Mr. CULLOM (deep., Ill.) argued that instead of this bill reducing taxation 853,000, 000, it should be reduced at least $75,000,000, as there was no prospect of reducing the fairfi.

Mr. SCHENCK (deep., Ohio) threw upon the low tariff, men, including Mr. Cullom, the responsibility for the fullure of the Tariff bill, and said that if the majority of those desiring to lower the tariff had stack by the Com-nitice of Ways and Means, that bill would have had be-fore this time the sanction of the Heuse, and would have Representatives.

Amendments by the Committee on appropriations, appropriating $1,00,000 for deficiencies in the appropriations for collecting customs duties, and $20,000 to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to pay special Counsel, were to have for supper.

Mr. SCHENCK said he had often heard this talk about small bills, but no man could spend any considerable time in studying the revenue system without finding out that it was contradictory and incongruous, and that if any part of it was interfered with, provision must be made for other parts in consequence of those changes. This bill was devised by the Department. It was true that there were some 86 pages in it, but the delay had not been occasioned half as much by the length of the bill as by speeches and interruptions.

Referring to an allusion by Mr. Butler to Senator Sherman's bill, Mr. SCHEACK said that the gentleman spoke unadvisedly about it. The Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee had introduced a bill indicating what taxes he wished dropped, including much of what the pending bill provided, and having had it printed, and made a speech upon it, wound up by saving that he did not desire any action on it until the House bill was disposed of so that instead of antagonizing with the House, the Senate was waiting for the House bill.

Mr. CULLOM (Rep., Ill.,—boes not the gentieman knew that the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee proposes to substitute his bill for this!

Mr. SCHENCK—I do not so understand it.

Mr. CULLOM—I do.

Mr. SUENCK—Then you are mistaken.

Mr. CULLOM—I do not so understand it.
Mr. CULLOM—I do.
Mr. SUHENCK.—Then you are mistaken.
Mr. MYERS (Rep., Penn.) declared bimself opposed to he income tax and in favor of taxing distilleries according to their capacity, but admitted that the pending bill hid not admit amendments for those purposes to be of-mendments.

The House advanced with the bill as far as Section 16.

ever witnessed on the classic tracks of Long Island took clace yesterday on the Union Course, for the Proprietors' urse of $2,500, free for all horses. The day being fine and pleasant, there was a large attendance, fully 1,200 people being on the track, despite the counter attraction at Prospect Park. The horses entered were Ben Daniels's bay mare American Girl; C. Champlin's bay gelding. George Palmer; and W. Borst's brown stallion, George Wilkes. When the horses came upon the track their condition and appearance was easierly scrutinized. American Girl, although Ben Daniels had only had her in regular steady work for six weeks, leoked the picture of condition, and plainly showed the care and attention he had bestowed upon her. We are glad to say, on the part of a young but promising horseman, that Mr. Leveli, the owner of American Girl, although he was strongly importuned to allow some more experienced driver to take charge of his mare for this race, on the ground that he was unable to handle her with the requisite skill, refused to do so, but assured of the ability and faith of his trainer, backed his mare heavily to win the race, and his confidence was justly recompensed. Daniels drove the mare with a coolness and judgment that could not be surpassed, and in the last heat, when at the exciting finish, the slightest nervousness or healthion would have been fatal, he never falkered, but holding his mare steadily together, won the heat and race by the shortest distance that the experienced judges had ever before decided in a race. George Palmer looked in blooming condition, as did also George Wilkes, and each of them had a strong party of friends behind them. The pool betting was brisk, but the amounts were not large-sufficient, however, to show the great interest felt in the race. American Girl was the favorite, selling for $130; George Palmer, $85, and George Wilkes, $45.

First Heal.—George Palmer got away first, with Wilkes, who broke directly the word was given, second, and the favorite last, but she soon passed the stallion. At the quarter pole of seed, Palmer was two lengths ahead of the Girl, and Wilkes, who had broken badly on the turn owing to Palmer's wheel hitting him, twenty lengths behind. At the half-mile, Palmer led the mare two lengths, but she was at his wheed on the turn into the homestretelt, where she curried him to a treble break, and beat him home by ten lengths in the sar George Palmer; and W. they trotted thus along the far side and to the half mile in 1:11—Palmer having at that point the best of it by a neck and shoulders. He kept thus far ahead on the lower end, but the long striding, game mare was not to be shaken off. She got parallel with him on the lower turn, and they trotted head and head to the distance, where wilkers joined them and got his head in front of both for a moment, and then broke. The struggle between the mare and gelding continued to the score, where Daniels, who had nursed his game mare with wonderful judgment and patience, let her out, and she won by half a head only, in 2:254.

Good play and a little fortune brought him on the 41st linning 77s points ahead, a fact which for a time unnerved the champion. Here another change was brought about, and Rudolphe forged ahead gallantly, his equilibrium being restored, and he was again pronounced an easy winner. On the 42d linning, after scoring 7s, Rudolphe clearly missed, but his well-known stubbornness came successfully into play, and he was, after some agitation, allowed to proceed. received the following favorable report from the President of the Company:

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, May 16, 1870.

Messys. Henry Clews & Co., New-York:

GENTLEMEN: I have the pleasure to inform you that the entire line of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Raliroad Company is graded and bridged from Vinton to Waterloo, and from Columbus Junction to West Branch, leaving only 20 miles to be graded. Five hundred men are now actively employed in grading, bridging and laying ties, and completing the balance of the work. About 160 men are, in addition, at work between Vinton and Waterloo, in putting down iron, ballasting, and finishing up in running order over three miles a week.

The iron is all purchased, and ample equipment to complete the entire road from Burlington to Waterloo, a distance of 160 miles, and most of it is now on the way, and to be immediately laid down. Thus you perceive that our road is being completed considerably in advance of issuing the bonds.

The country through which our road runs never exhibited finer prospects of crops than now, and the cities, towns and country are rapidly increasing in population.

The earnings of the completed portion of the road are more than sufficient to pay operating expenses and the interest on the bonds pertaining thereto. These earnings will more than double per mile as soon as the line is completed from Burlington to Waterloo, of which the greater portion is now in running order.

This road has the finest prospects for business of any in the North-West and must take rank with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Illinois Central at an early day.

With our present force on the work, and if the remaining iron conces forward with ordinary promptness, the entire line from Burlington to Waterloo by the first day of September next, in ample time to move the growing crops.

You must perceive by the sentiments of the people and the press on the line of our road, all of which is voluntarily offered, and not solicited, that our enterprise has the inequalitied approval and confidence of all who are acquainted with its merits.

Reports from the Engineer-in-Chief relalon present. Reports from the Engineer-in-Chief relative to the approximate cost of structures in Central Park were received and referred to the Executive Committee. Reports in regard to paying Sixth and Seventhaves, and the transverse roads, with the Nicolson pavement, were presented. The Executive Committee reported in approval of the resolution to make a Vice-President one of the Board, and Commissioner Hilton was elected to the position. Resolutions to have the Fourth-ave, tunnel better ventilated and lighted were approved, and the work ordered to be commenced. The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Hilton, and was adopted:

Ecological That this Department will not because require from any mechanic, workingman, or laborer in the employ of this Department a service of more than eight bours each day—that period of time constituting by law legal day's work; but agreement may be made with any such mechanics, workingmen, or laborer for extra compensation for overwork beyond such period.

THE BOND ROBBERY. THE TRIBUNE published yesterday the particulars of the arrest of John Kandle and George Marshall, on a charge of having in their possession nearly $30,000 worth of bonds and other securities supposed to have been stolen. It appears that in January last the National Bank of Glens Falls, at Glens Falls, was robbed of over $100,000 worth of securities, among which were about $15,000 deposited for safe keeping by Daniel Gale. These bonds were found on the prisoners, and identified, and the indorsement on them, purporting to be a transfer, pronounced forgeries. It is represented on behalf of the accused that a man named L. A. Brown gave the bonds to Kandle on the 27th of May, at a house in Forty-first-st., between Third and Fourth-aves., with instructions to proceed to Springfield, Mass., where he would be met by another man who would convey the bonds to South Royalton, Vt., at which piace he would be enabled to obtain a loan upon them from a bank there for five years at par; that, while on their way there, Kandle left the train at Stamford, Conn., to purchase an orange, and on his return to the car both himself and Marshall, who accompanied him, were arrested. On searching their vallees the detectives discovered nothing, but a subsequent search of their persons revealed the bonds concealed in an inside pocket of Kandle's vest. The detectives asked the prisoners whether they would await a requisition from New-York, or proceed there of their own accord; to which they replied that they were not conscious of having committed any wrong; but if the accusation was persisted in, they would willingly return, satisfied that their innocence would be proved. They were then brought to this city, and lodged in Ludlow-st. Jail. They will be examined before Commissioner Osborn to-day. May, at a house in Forty-first-st., between Third and A FIRST WARD POLITICIAN IN TROUBLE.

Stephen McGrath, the well-known First Ward of General Sessions on an indictment for assault and battery, with intent to commit rape on a failen woman, battery, with intent to commit rape on a raisen woman, named Mattle Allone, and found guilty of assault and battery, was yesterday brought before Recorder Hackett for sentence. Preparatory to pronouncing the same, the Recorder remarked that a fallen woman was doubly under the protection of the law, inasmuch as it happened only too often that inwiess men took advantage of them, hoping that the fact of their dishonor would impeach their credibility. McGrath was then sent to the Penitentiary for six months.

Coroner Whitehill of Brooklyn held an inmest last evening in the case of James Gilligan, who was murdered by William Wilson, in South Brooklyn, on Sunday night last. After taking testimony the case was adjourned until Monday eveningnext.
